

IT Market Place

Rigel Networks is proud to offer a multitude of professional services and online tools to each member of our diamond network. These services, which include access to one of the largest diamond exchange databases and the most accurate online diamond appraisal tool, were designed to help users succeed in the increasingly competitive wholesale jewelry market. This solution allows jewelry wholesalers and retailers to sell, either their own merchandise or manufacturer's merchandise, through our diamond network. Using our online diamond appraisal system, end users can also verify the wholesale pricing for every diamond for buying & selling.

The online diamond network and website not only connect wholesale gemstone and wholesale diamond jewelry dealers from all over the world, it gives them access to a comprehensive set of online sales and marketing services aimed at reducing their overhead costs while increasing each member's exposure and market-share in the competitive global marketplace

Two of the most notable services our online diamond network offers its gemstone and wholesale diamond jewelry dealers are the "Search Tool", "Index", "Business Link".

"Search Tool" is an online search tool that allows members to search through thousands of certified loose diamonds listed in the diamond network database. The detailed search criteria, which include shape, size, clarity, cut, weight, depth, certificate type and price, allow diamond wholesalers to find diamonds matching their exact specifications.

"Index" is a proprietary online diamond appraisal system that is the most accurate in the world. By entering a diamond's defining characteristics into this online tool, it will immediately calculate an accurate, wholesale diamond appraisal.

"Business Link" offers adding our jewelry search technology to business associate's existing website instantly. Sell finished jewelry from different manufacturers with your own mark-up online with our "Business Link" system

In addition to "Search Tool" "Index" and "Business Link", our diamond network offers its wholesale diamond jewelry dealers many additional services that help them market and sell their wholesale gemstone jewelry worldwide and stay up-to-speed on all relevant industry news. The network provides an online marketplace that allows its wholesale diamond jewelry dealers to easily buy and sell their merchandise online, communicate with each other through exclusive forums, read about the latest news affecting their industry, and access a host of web tools that can enhance the functionality of their own websites. For members who do not yet have a website, GemFind also provides website development and advertising services

Let Us Grow Together

Advantages of Our Diamond Network:

- Reduce jewelry business associates cost in buying inventory
- Search diamond database with desired specifications
- Post color stoned requests
- Link the diamond database with favorite diamond dealer's inventory
- Upload excess inventory and sell to other members through Forum / Marketplace